

ALUMNI TO RETURN MAY 7-8

FR. CONDON TO CELEBRATE JUBILEE

RECALLS OLD DAYS
WHEN COLLEGEVILLE
WAS STILL IN CRADLE

(Picture on Page Four)

The Rev. Bernard Condon's twenty-five years in the priesthood will be honored on the Feast of St. Joseph, April 26, here at the College.

A Solemn High Mass in the morning will be followed by a banquet at noon. The evening program is being arranged by the Rev. Harold Diller, '28, and the Rev. Robert Koch, '28.

Father Condon was ordained on June 6, 1914 at St. Charles Seminary, Carthagen, O. He celebrated his First Mass on June 14 at Sacred Heart Church, his home parish, in Sedalia, Mo.

He was pastor pro-tem at St. Joseph's Church in Adrian, Mich., for three months. Then in September, 1914 he was appointed to the faculty at St. Joseph's where he has been ever since, except from February 1915 to June 1916 when he studied for his M. A. at Catholic University, Washington, D. C.

For twenty-one years he was in charge of the Book Store. The position brought him in contact with every student that stepped onto the campus during that time. He met most of them again in one of his Latin, Greek or English classes.

When Father Condon was a student here from '02 to '08, there were only three buildings on the place, the Main Building, the Faculty Building and the Brothers' Dwelling. The lake was a mud-hole, there were no cement walks, and a few Redskins were still around the Indian School. The dining room was where the locker rooms are now; the band room and study hall were in the Faculty Building and there were only eleven men on the teaching staff.

Alumni in Northern Ohio To Schedule Meetings

Ohioans are making arrangements for Alumni meetings in the near future.

Otto Birkmeier, '06-'09, of Delphos, is planning on forming a chapter of former students from Lima, Ottoville, Fort Jennings, Delphos and Cloverdale.

The Rev. Leo Vogt, C. PP. S., '11-'18, rector at Brunnerdale Seminary, is making arrangement to have members of the Akron Chapter come to the Seminary for an outing.

PLAN DINNER MEETING AT INDIANAPOLIS

Alumni of central Indiana will hold an organization meeting Thursday night, March 30, following a 6:30 p.m. dinner at the Indianapolis Athletic Club.

CONTACT went to press on March 28 and so details of the meeting cannot be given until next issue. Arrangements for the dinner meeting are in charge of John B. Wolf, '11-'15, 1817 North Delaware Street, Indianapolis, and Joseph Howard, '15-'18, 1228 North Drexel Street, Indianapolis.

PRESIDENT WELCOMES ST. JOE MEN

VARIOUS CHAPTERS
MEET TO ARRANGE
TRANSPORTATION

Homecoming days for the Alumni of St. Joseph's have been set for May 7 and 8.

Plans are being made on the campus and in chapters for what promises to be a record-smashing attendance. The Louisville, Midwestern Ohio, Fort Wayne and Calumet chapter officers will arrange transportation for any member that requests it.

"We used to send special invitations," said the Rev. Aloys Dirksen, '20, president of the College. "But that was before we had CONTACT. Now we'll use the publication to announce the dates of Homecoming and to invite all Alumni to return for the occasion. All former students are welcome. We on the campus are looking forward to their return."

The program will be similar to those in years past. There will be a band concert, a play, a Mass for deceased Alumni, a baseball game, banquet and an election of officers. Details have not been completed.

The weather forecast for May 7 and 8, according to J. Henry Hipskind, '11, secretary-treasurer of the Alumni Association, is:

"It's always fair weather, when good fellows get together."

STUDENTS ARRANGE MISSION FESTIVAL

St. Joseph's annual Mission Festival will be held Sunday, April 16. Barkers, booths and ballyhoo will bring to the campus a carnival atmosphere. Members of the Festival Committee, headed by Vincent Schuster, are setting $500 as their goal.

MY, MY, WHAT CHANGES!

Remember the day you helped toss Shorty from Fostoria into the lake? Remember the night you jumped into bed and found two bull frogs there before you? Remember how High Pockets from Paducah used to get by with murder in the study hall?

When you come back May 7 and 8 you'll bubble over with memories as you mosey around the lake, amble through the Raleigh Club grove and stroll out toward the grotto. And at every few steps you will see a building or some landscaping that will make you stop and exclaim, "My, my, what changes!"

Remember the old Indian School across the road? Well that's called Drexel Hall now. It was filled with chicken feed and owls when you were here. But the inside of the three-story, tile-roof structure was ripped out and rebuilt with modern rooms. You'll have to put on lots of mileage before you find a student residence hall that's any swankier.

Remember the gym? It used to run north and south. Now it also runs east and west. A 200-foot, three-story unit, known as Science Hall, has been added. Besides student rooms, it holds classrooms and laboratories for biology, botany, geology, chemistry and physics.

Then there is Dwenger Hall. With stone towers that make it resemble a medieval castle, it stands in back of the Administration Building. It used to be called the Infirmary, remember? It had to be turned into a residence hall when 340 students set a new high enrollment last September. The dorm above the chapel — where you used to whoop-it-up, Alumni Night — has been rigged-up for Pete Heimes' sick.

The president used to be the only man on the campus with a Ph.D., remember? Now there are six or seven around and more coming. A Master's degree used to be a little out of the ordinary, but now practically every one of the thirty-seven members of the faculty has one.

Perhaps you haven't even seen the new entrance, the fish ponds and the park at the east side of the Chapel. And what about the new grotto?

Yes, there have been some changes made.

Joseph Gigandet, '34, is production engineer for the Lindy Air Products Company in Chicago.

The Rev. Gregory Miller, '18, is building a new church at Sts. Peter and Paul, Norwood, O.

Charlie Spalding, '29, is a partner with his brothers in the Spalding Clothing Company, Bardstown, Ky.

THANKS A MILLION!

Alumni you've been swell!

Hundreds of answered questionnaires choked our mailbox. Then came dozens of letters telling us how well you like CONTACT and what a wonderful idea you think it all is.

But not every questionnaire has been returned. It seems that the Alumni we know best are the slowest in answering. Perhaps they think we know all about them already. That's true, but we want every Alumnus to fill out a record.

Let's make it 100 per cent.

Thanks a million!

Down in Washington

Herman J. Schnurr, M.A., '32, Third Theologian at Catholic University, Washington, D. C., will be ordained to the priesthood in June.

Michael J. Vichuras, M.A., '33, will receive subdiaconate at the same time. Members of the class of '34 who have their Masters degree and are in Second Theology are Chester B. Bowling and Thomas E. Buren, and in First Theology are Adelbert Welch, M.A., '34, and Anthony Suelzer, M.A., '35. From the class of '36 in Third Philosophy with the degree Bachelor of Arts are Edward Dunn, Donald Muldoon, James O'Connor and Albert Ottenweller.

He's Up and At 'em in Sturgis

There's at least one person in Sturgis, Mich., who doesn't have to worry about his leisure time. That's Joseph Linder, '17-'22, sales manager of the National Carbon Coated Paper Company. He is a member of the Board of Education; District Chairman of the Boy Scouts of America; District President of the Holy Name Society; member of the Church Committee of Holy Angels Parish; President of St. Vincent de Paul Society and Past Grand Knight of Sturgis Council, Knights of Columbus.

The Rev. John H. Anthony, '14-'17, has been transferred from instructor at Elder High School, Price Hill, Cincinnati, to assistant pastor at St. Clare Church, Cincinnati.

Robert J. Cunningham, '17-'19, is a member of the Indianapolis Fire Department.

Al McCoy, '21, president of the Calumet chapter, has been transferred to the Pittsburgh branch office of the Continental Roll and Foundry Company.

Orchids to the Rev. Joseph Henry Rohling, C.P.P.S., S.T.D., '23! His answered alumni questionnaire was the first to be received in the mail. Father Rohling is professor of Dogmatic Theology, Patrology, Homiletics and Catechetics at St. Charles Seminary, Carthage, O.

The deep stuff that comes in an advanced business course is causing Ed Spalding, '34, to burn the midnight kilowatts down in Louisville.

Edward Brown, '34, who represented Louisville last year in the National Links Championships Tournament, is employed at the Louisville Gas and Electric Company.

THE ROUNDUP

By
Coach Joe Dienhart

As most of you know, our High School kids went to the quarter-finals of the National Catholic Basketball Tournament at Loyola University, Chicago.

They went on the warpath in the first game and scalped an Indian team, St. Stephen's of Wyoming, 45-18.

They hit the trail hard again and toppled Mount Carmel, of Chicago, 53-34. Mount Carmel was Chicago Champions and favored to win the tourney. After that victory, many sports writers picked our kids to take the tournament.

But then came the quarter-finals and we lost 33-30 to St. George, of Evanston, Ill.

The fellows brought back the Fred Snite Trophy for being the best defensive team in the tournament. Carl Reichert received a trophy and was named guard on the All-Tournament Team.

Taken all in all the kids deserve all the credit they get. Meagher, Joe Hajdich, Brungardt, Kochis, Reichert, Richard Hajdich and Haman are a fine bunch of basketball players.

Now that Spring has sprung, seed catalogues, Bock beer and baseball are here again. The latter is causing us more uncertainty than Hitler is causing Europe.

Three crack pitchers of last season are gone. Norb Dreiling and Joe Ratterman were graduated and Earl Pettit, freshman hurler, was signed by the Cincinnati Reds and farmed out to the Piedmont League. Jack Seemuth, from Tiffin, O., is the only moundsman held over. Of course, Bill McGuire, of Youngstown, O., Maurie Gutgsell, from Jasper, Ind., and Mike Dedinsky, of Joliet, Ill., show great possibilities. Our lone left-hander is Bob McDevitt, of Gary. He'll be plenty good if he gets control. But right now he's wilder than the West ever was.

It looks as though Chuck Richardson, Louisville, and Joe Kelly, Indianapolis, will be behind the plate. Sluggers, dear Santa Claus, are other things we wish you had brought us. Unless we unearth a couple of Babe Ruths we won't even hit a good foul ball all season. Sure, our boys swing better than Goodman's orchestra, but they so seldom connect. Funny what a difference that makes in a ball game.

Here's our schedule. We'll probably add a few games before the season opens.

Justin Seroczynski, '35, is with Standard Oil in Chicago.

ON THE CAMPUS

Brother Victor Zuber, oldest person on the campus, has been around these parts since 1894, almost as long as the corner-stone of the Administration Building. He is back at St. Joe after several weeks illness in St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Lafayette. Alumni will remember Brother Vic as infirmarian and as driver of the old mail wagon.

Francis J. Sheed, Master of the Catholic Evidence Guild in England, author, translator, and founder of the Sheed & Ward publishing houses in London and New York, used "Religion on the Street Corner" as his topic when he spoke in the campus auditorium.

Tumultuous Fifteenth Century England was brought to the stage here with the presentation of Shakespeare's King Henry IV by the Curtain Club on the eve of St. Patrick's Day. The production, under direction of the Rev. Robert Koch, '28, was presented again the next afternoon for the Ladies' Literary Club of Rensselaer.

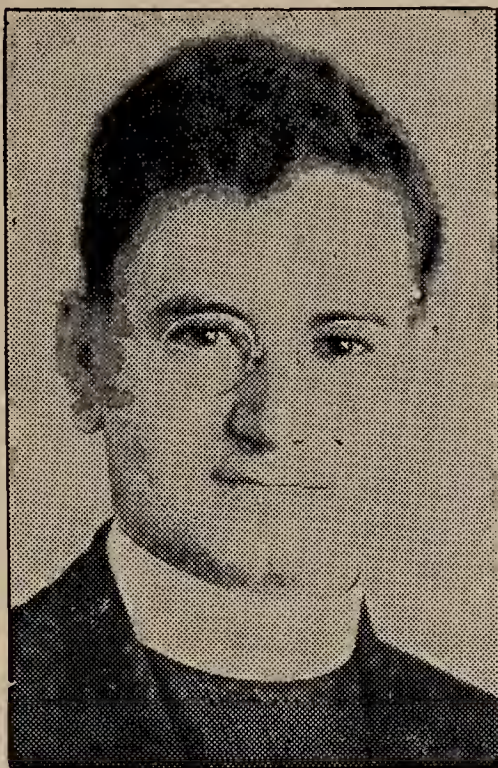

St. Joseph's has the singular honor of having all its pre-med Juniors accepted by a medical school. Since none of the pre-meds have degrees they were selected solely on their high scholastic standing and on the exceptional showing they made in the Mental Aptitude Test, given by the government.

Leonard Sachs, coach of Loyola University's undefeated basketball team, is to be guest speaker Tuesday night, March 28, at the college basketball banquet in the Rensselaer armory. Other speakers scheduled are the Very Rev. Aloys Dirksen, '20, president of St. Joseph's; the Rev. Edward Roof, '23, director of athletics at the college; Conrad Kellner, mayor of Rensselaer; Coach Joe Dienhart; Assistant Coach Brother Henry Kosalko, '36; Barney Badke, captain of the varsity; Jim Meagher, captain of the high school, and Edward Fischer, '34, toastmaster.

A feature story about St. Joseph's is to appear in the Palm Sunday edition of the Catholic Daily Tribune.

The Albertus Magnus Science Club held a banquet March 26 in Lunghi's Restaurant, Rensselaer, Ind.

SINGS AT BIER

Maurice Meyers, S.J.

ROME. — At the bier of Pope Pius XI, Maurice Meyers, S.J., '26-'30, sang a Russian requiem as a member of the famous Collegium Russicum Choir.

Mr. Meyers is a student of oriental religious rites at the Russian College in Rome. After leaving St. Joe, he entered the Jesuit Novitiate, Milford, O., and later studied for a time at West Baden, Ind.

When Hitler went to Rome to visit Mussolini, the Fort Wayne student was one of the few to see whom he described as "the two most talked of men in the world today," seated together. He had resourcefully arranged to have a special mission which would bring him to the meeting place.

Tony Traser Breaks Down; Tells of Sleigh Bells and Snores

"If there's a man living who can beat George LaNoue at snoring, I don't want to hear him," said Tony Traser, '34, as he munched a piece of celery during dinner at St. Charles Seminary, where he is a Third Theologian.

"When George started snoring it was like having three droves of bees and a buzz saw, all in one room. He kept me awake many a night in the dorm at St. Joe.

"I got a bunch of sleigh bells out of the barn one Monday afternoon. Then I tied them under George's bed and put a string on them that would reach to my bed. You see, I was tired of getting up and walking 'way over to his bed to shake him. I had it figured out that if I jerked that string and started those sleigh bells jingling it would be enough to wake him up.

"Well, Monday night came and I lay awake hours gripping the

CLUB PLANS SOFT LIGHTS; SWEET MUSIC

The night shall be filled with music, and there shall be dancing to sweet melodies beneath soft lights, when the third annual Monogram Formal gets under way Saturday evening, April 29, in the Rensselaer Armory.

Alumni, students and guests have been welcomed by Barney Badke, general chairman, in the name of the Monogram Club.

"No orchestra has been selected as CONTACT goes to press," Mr. Badke said. "But it will be a good one; we guarantee that.

"Student bids will be $3. Alumni and outsiders will be asked to pay $3.50. For $5, patrons will receive bids and will have their names printed on the program.

"In past years, dozens of Alumni always rolled into Rensselaer with their wives or friends for the formal. Usually they stay over until Sunday when they attend a special Mass and make a tour of the grounds. The way things look now there will be more alumni here this year than ever before."

Pastor in Mishawaka

Since his ordination in 1922, the Rev. Otto J. Keller, '12-'16, has been stationed at St. Bavo's Church in Mishawaka. He went there as an assistant and has been pastor since July, 1927.

string. I wanted to try out my masterpiece. But all was quiet on the Western Front. Tuesday night I waited again but there wasn't so much as a purr out of George. Wednesday night I still kept my vigil and LaNoue still kept his peace.

"On Thursday night I fell into bed and groped feebly for the string. It wasn't there. Then it dawned on me the dorm had been cleaned that day and someone had discovered and taken away my wonderful contraption. I said to myself, 'I won't need the fool thing anyway.'

"Three sleepless nights had me so worn out that I dropped right off. The next thing I knew I heard a roar that sounded like a hundred freight trains going through the dorm.

"George was at it again."

HERE AND THERE

There's a bit of Winchell in Bernie Sutton, '35. In a letter to us he wrote: "Here is a little on the side; your classmate Gene Scher, '34, is engaged. But he will not give out the date of the wedding. Put it in, so the boys will know — especially McCrate, the patrolman." Bernie works in the post office in Huntington, Ind. He was married by Father Coughlin at the Shrine of the Little Flower, November 20, 1937. He is the proud father of a five-weeks-old BOY. Yes, Bernie capitalized the word boy in his letter.

Here is a social note: Jerre Haugh, '18-'20, of Delphi, was a recent campus visitor. Jerre — yes, that's how he spells it — is a salesman for the Lafayette Brewery. He reports that his cousin, John Sullivan, '00-'02, is district sales manager for the American Can Company in Louisville.

Several Alumni took part in the ceremonies broadcast from St. Meinrad Seminary over a nationwide hook-up just before the coronation broadcast from Rome. The Rev. Mr. Thomas Heilman, '33, of Kokomo, was deacon, and Vetter Biven, '35, of Louisville, was acolyte. The "Deo Gratias" heard at the end of the Epistle belonged to Master of Ceremonies Dom Altieri, '34, of Louisville.

The Rev. James Elliott, '31, is an assistant at Holy Angels Church, in Gary.

AL'S CRAZY CAR CAUSES CONSIDERABLE GRIEF

The Mardi Gras or bust!

Al Geimer, '34, made that his battle-cry when he shifted gears at his home in Decatur, Ind., and started chuggin' southward toward New Orleans. But the first day out Al's car acted queerer than a cow on crutches.

Al's wonderful philosophy of life came to his aid. He decided that if he couldn't get to the Mardi Gras he would enjoy himself just the same, and not just sit around and mope over bad fortune. So he went over to St. Meinrad's Seminary, St. Meinrad, Ind., visited his former classmates, and called it a trip.

Fifteen Await Ordinations At Carthagera

Fifteen alumni will be ordained priests of the Society of the Precious Blood on May 7 at St. Charles Seminary, Carthagera, O. They are:

Lawrence Growney, Leonard Fulenkamp, Norbert Missler, Leonard Sudhoff, Sylvester Kleman, Aloys Selhorst, Charles Robbins, Henry Balster, Edward Moorman, Henry Hess, William Staudt, Harold Kuhns, Joseph Zimerle, Joseph Hoying, and Frederick Koch.

Third Theologians at St. Charles are: Richard Dirksen, Michael Storm, John Sheehan, Herbert Eilerman, Arnold Meirng, Anthony Migoni, Valerian Volin, Vincent Nels, Victor Kreinbrink, Norbert Sulkowski, Robert Wuest, John Hamme, Bernard Schmidt, Anthony Traser, Herman Herbst.

Second Theologians: Richard Baird, Michael Spegele, August Wolf, William Higgins, Hugh Hasson, Norman Heckman, Vincent Shafer, Edward McCarthy, Ambrose Heiman, Rudolph Bierberg, Harold Roth, George Heinzen, Edward Maziarz, Werner Hemmelgarn, Bernard Mores, Victor Ranly, Leonard Kostka, Gerard Krapf, Norbert Loshe, Henry Martin and John Samls.

First Theologians: Urban Hoying, Alvin Burns, Thomas Growney, Edward Zukowski, Benedict D'Angelo, Charles Froelich, John Hoorman, Francis McCarthy, Ambrose Lengerich, Edward Bubala, Joseph Smolar, Stanley Meiring, William Stack, Anthony Gamble, Roman Anderson, Robert Lux, Louis Telegdy, Robert Beckman, Lawrence Mertes, William Frantz.

Second Philosophy: Joseph Anthamatten, Frederick Hendricks, Robert Gaertner, Alphonse Jungwirth, Frederick O'Brien, Alvin Druhman, James Couhig, Daniel Raible, Carl Bricher, James Kelley, Werner Verhoff, Casper Bonlfas, and John Spatt.

Magazine Mentions New College Course

An article about the introduction of a course in the History of American Medicine at St. Joseph's appeared in the Bulletin of the History of Medicine.

"The course gives the student a broader background," according to the Rev. Clarence Kroeckel, C. PP. S., M. S., '23, head of the Science Department. "It shows him just what has been done in his chosen field and with what he will have to cope."

JUBILARIAN

Rev. Bernard Condon

The Silver Jubilee of the Rev. Bernard Condon, C. PP. S. M. A., '02-'08 will be celebrated April 26 at St. Joseph's. (Story on front page).

FR. PURSLEY GIVES AWARD

In memory of his mother the Rev. Leo Pursley, '21, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Warsaw, Ind., donated the Mary J. Pursley Memorial Award for Creative Writing. Annually fifty dollars will be presented to the student who submits the best piece of writing in the field of short story, drama or poetry.

Other awards donated by Alumni are:

The Hanley Science Award, given each year by William A. Hanley, '08, Indianapolis, is a prize of fifty dollars in cash awarded to the student who, in the estimation of instructors of the Science Department, composes the best essay on some topic in the scientific field, and who excels in the oral delivery of his theme.

Long a tradition on the campus the Conroy Oratory Medal, donated by the Rt. Rev. Thomas M. Conroy, '96, of Fort Wayne, is awarded to the winner of the Oratory Contest held annually on Ascension Day.

The Rev. John F. Cogan, '96, of Hamilton, O., gives The Cogan Gold Medal each year to the member of the graduating class who distinguishes himself for scholastic excellence and leadership.

The Alumni Essay Medal is awarded annually by the Alumni Association to the student submitting the best English Essay.

College Plans Field Mass And Procession

Alumni and many other Catholics of the Logansport and Lafayette deaneries will assemble at the College Sunday, May 14, for a Field Mass and Eucharistic Procession.

Officiating will be the Very Rev. Michael Aichinger, of Logansport, celebrant; the Rev. Frederick Fehrenbacher, '22, College vice-president, deacon; and the Rev. William Hordeman, '00, of Frankfort, sub-deacon. The Very Rev. Aloys Dirksen, '20, president of the College, will deliver the sermon. The College Choir will sing the Mass.

FRANK S. KAHLE, '20, KEEPS THINGS HUMMIN' AROUND OTTAWA

Frank S. Kahle hasn't let any grass grow under his feet since he left St. Joe in the Spring of 1920. He is manager of Huber's Service Grocery in Ottawa, O., and has three boys and a girl. He received his Bachelor of Commercial Science Degree in 1927 at St. Louis University. While at St. Louis he won three letters in football, one in basketball and one in baseball. He was captain of the football team in 1926. After graduation he worked in several banks as auditor and cashier. He has been trustee of DeSales College, at Toledo, for the past two years and has two more years to serve. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus, Eagles Lodge and secretary of the Ottawa Chamber of Commerce. Don't you wonder what he does with his spare time?

William A. Hanley Speaks at Conference

An industrial program for America was outlined by William A. Hanley, '01-'02, '07-'08, at the Catholic Conference of Industrial Problems in Indianapolis. The Rev. Joseph B. Kenkel, C. PP. S., Ph. D., '13, professor of Social Sciences at St. Joseph's attended the meeting. Mr. Hanley is now in Basingstoke, England, where he is inspecting a new plant being completed by the Eli Lilly and Company. He is director of the Company's engineering division.

Kentuckians Sell Insurance

Down in Louisville, Frank Gannon, '34, is selling insurance for Prudential, and George Bartlett, '28-'29, is a salesman for John Hancock Insurance Company.

Former Professors Found in Various New Positions

Fathers Landoll, Koenn and Staab Pastors; Father Barge, Assistant

Fifteen well-known professors left the College within the past ten years to assume elsewhere the duties of pastor, instructor, chaplain or student.

Father Albin Scheidler, '05, is procurator at the Mission House on Lewis Mountain, Charlottesville, Va.

The Rev. Charles Condon, '11, is at St. Mary's Novitiate, Burkettsville, O.

Father Theodore Koenn, '10, is pastor at Immaculate Conception Church, Butternut, Wis.

At St. Rose Convent in La-Crosse, Wis., Father Meinrad Koester, '02, is chaplain.

Down in Cincinnati, the Rev. Rupert Landoll, '13, is pastor of St. Mark's.

Father Alexander Linneman, '07, is chaplain at St. Anthony's Hospital, Dodge City, Kans.

Stationed at Brunnerdale Seminary, Canton, O., are the Rev. Joseph Lutkemeier, '15, and the Rev. Eugene Luckey, '26.

Father Eugene Omlor, '15, is chaplain at Notre Dame Convent, Milwaukee.

The Rev. Carl Longanbach, '28, is a missionary at Lewis Mountain, Charlottesville, Va.

At St. Francis in Fifield, Wis., Father Christian Staab, '17, is pastor.

The Rev. Bernard Scharf, '23, is working toward his Ph.D. at Columbia University, New York.

Father Joseph Hiller, '19, is working toward his Ph.D. at Catholic University, Washington, D.C.

The Rev. Cyril Knue, '18, is procurator for St. Charles Seminary, at Carthagera, O.

Assistant at St. Mary's parish, Nebraska City, Neb., is the Rev. Henry Barge, '29.

Student Commerce Club Schedules First Banquet

"Opportunities Awaiting the College Graduate and How to Make the Most of Them," will be discussed by Charles B. Weaver, vice-president of the Northern Trust Company, of Chicago, at the Commerce Club banquet, April 19, at Lunghi's Restaurant, Rensselaer.
